How Rosterfy Can Help You Future Proof Your Volunteering Program

Rosterfy redefines how non-profit organisations achieve cost efficiencies, and visualise impact reporting while ensuring compliance and data security of their volunteer program.

Australian Red Cross · British Heart Foundation · OXFAM Ireland · Child Bereavement UK · Vinnies good works · Lifeline

We work with some of the more recognised charities worldwide to support their goals and supercharge their programs. With Rosterfy, organisations are able to create a more engaging experience for their volunteers and make a bigger impact for their cause.

Reduce costs, manage risk, improve data security and report impact with Rosterfy

Tell your story, get better results

Getting the best results from your volunteering program is about creating an engaging and rewarding experience from the moment they show interest, to the day they contribute their time to your cause.

Rosterfy allows you improved user experience but also gives you the operational visibility to monitor the impact volunteers are making towards your cause. This helps you identify the return you're getting from the program and secure future investment or support,

> With the insight Rosterfy offers us, we can educate local and national governments on the effectiveness of the programs. It helps tell a story and paint a picture of the vision of what could be done with more support"

Create a 'whole organisation' approach to volunteer management

Rosterfy can offer all the services within your non-profit organisation needs and a complete view of the overall impact of your volunteer program.

That means no more silos and no more missed opportunities with improved cost inefficiencies.

Rosterfy is how non-profits and charities are future-proofing their volunteering program and reaching more people for their cause. It's how they are making a bigger impact — and it starts with our volunteer management software.

> "Rosterfy allows us to have a whole charity approach to volunteering, meaning every team has access to all the volunteer details and information they need, it helps everyone"
